Mission Statement

"We the Roman Catholic Community of St. Mary Church believe in a loving and caring God. By our Baptism we are called to proclaim and live the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Empowered by the Holy Spirit, we use our gifts and talents to build the kingdom of God, a kingdom of love, peace, and justice in our families, in our school, in our parish, and in our world."

24
ORDINARY TIME

FROM THE Pastor's Desk

In the Gospel for this 24th Sunday in Ordinary Time, we hear Jesus ask his disciples a very simple question, but one to which the answer is profound and life altering: “But who do you say that I am?” (Mark 8:29) Why is this question so important? Because while it may be helpful to know who others say Jesus is, what really matters is who you say he is. The former is head knowledge of Jesus, the latter is from your heart.

Then right after Peter answered correctly – “You are the Christ” – Jesus began to teach them that he would suffer greatly, be rejected, killed, and rise after three days. Peter rebuked Jesus about such a thing happening, and Jesus rebuked him back, and said, “Whoever wishes to come after me [Jesus] must deny himself, take up his cross, and follow me.” (Mark 8:34) Often times the phrase “Take up your cross” has been softened by equating it with accepting and/or bearing things like your indigestion or arthritis. Don’t get me wrong, I’m not implying that indigestion or arthritis, or any other ailments, are not difficult or do not cause people to suffer, because they are and they do. However, these are things that come to us in spite of ourselves. And, unfortunately, the phrase “take up your cross” has been used at times to condone or explain domination by others, or of telling someone to just tolerate and excuse the abusive behavior of another. But the “cross” that Jesus refers to is the suffering which comes into our lives because of the choices we have made for the Kingdom. In that sense it is always something that we choose, not something that just happens to us. Wait a minute, does this mean that Jesus had some sadistic goal for himself and for all of his followers? Not at all. A problem of understanding can be when we get so disturbed about Jesus saying that he must suffer and be killed, that we don’t hear or remember the resurrection part. Jesus didn’t seek suffering, he made that clear in the Garden of Gethsemane [see Mark 14:32-36]. No, suffering – i.e. the cross – is not the goal, but the cost of discipleship. Disciples have a choice to follow or not to follow Jesus’ way of life; and if they choose to follow him, yes they must be ready for suffering and humiliation, but they will also find life beyond all of their imagining – resurrected life!

As Catholic Christians some of the choices we make and some of the stances we take will put us at odds with and place barriers between ourselves and others. As a result we may feel alienated. We must remember that Jesus’ message antagonized many people in his day, and while it led to his crucifixion, it also led to his resurrection! Accordingly, if we follow him, it leads ultimately to our resurrection! Yes, being a disciple of Jesus is serious business. “To be, or not to be, that is the question”, a famous phrase from Shakespeare’s play Hamlet, is an apt question for each of us in regards to being a follower of Jesus – because it really is a matter of death and life.

Have a blessed week.

Fr Joe
